During his sojourn at Holy Redeemer since 1930, Father Smith has endeared himself to the student body. To him,

WHOSE NOBLE CHARACTER NEEDS NO EMBELLISHMENT, THIS SEVENTH EDITION OF THE CAMPANILE IS GRATEFULLY DEDICATED.

A PORTAL OF THE MASSIVE TEMPLE LEADS ALL TO THE SHRINE OF OUR MOTHER OF PERPETUAL HELP.

BICENTENNIAL POEM

In sunny Italy's happy clime
Their leader first uprose,
Two hundred years before our time
Against Our Savior's foes.
'Tis borne upon each faithful tongue
Alphonsus, saint of God,
And ever has his war-cry rung
Where'er his legions trod.

America soon engaged their view,
The land of young renown,
Our Lady's jewel pure and true,
The brightest in her crown.
To win this treasure for their Queen
They crossed the stormy main,
And 'neath the silent stars serene
They sang their loved refrain.

Honor to them! and when in time
The last stern field is fought,
With hands and hearts in every clime
Unstained in deed and thought,
Then shall this army victory-crown'd
March to their heavenly home,
Amid the plaudits that resound
In yon eternal Rome.

Then round the Sun of Justice bright,
Around the Moon of Love,
Each grace-perfected, blessed Knight
Shall shine a star above,—
A crown of stars, whose circle grand
Doth in sweet music chime,
A crown that ever will expand
Until the end of time!

THE waterfall is the most important and the most economical source of power that turns the wheels of the nation's industries. Could they turn without the guiding minds of the men in control? Here is real power that traces its source to the careful and ever-advancing administration of the nation's schools.

CLASS OFFICERS

LEADERS of to-day shall be the leaders of to-morrow.

In every group of students there are individuals whose outstanding qualities point to them as logical choices for class officers. Perseverance, boundless ambition, and fine achievements characterize these leaders. This is only as it should be, for of what value is the organized body if it lacks capable executive power?

According to tradition, students were selected at the commencement of the school year to represent the Senior Class of '33 in all its activities. Throughout their term the officers have exhibited all the qualities of leadership. They have honored the great trust bestowed upon them by their classmates who feel most fortunate in having made such a wise selection of their representatives.

It has been the singular privilege of these officers to preside over the largest class ever to be graduated from Holy Redeemer High School.

TO OUR ALMA MATER

REDEEMER, thou hast my best years!
Thou hast seen me gay or shedding tears,
Thou hast my earlier friends the good, the kind;
Hast built my character, kept pure my mind!
Through you I have come to know
How to win victory, to conquer a foe,
The path of life to take that I might win
Supreme happiness and avoid sin.
Through you life has brought to me
Friends who will ever faithful be,
Our reverend Fathers, Sisters, sweet and mild,
All these thou hast giv'n to me, thy child.
Can I but grateful be to you,
My Alma Mater, staunch and true?
Know that my future life will be
So lived thou wilt be proud of me!

—DOROTHEA JOHNSTON, '33.

SENIOR BOYS' CLASS HISTORY

AFTER having been under the guidance of the Sisters of the Immaculate Heart of Mary for eight years, we entered the portals of the boys' high school under the care of the Brothers of Mary, the first class to start the high school course in the new building.

As Freshmen there were new subjects, a taste of college preparatory work under Brothers Martin Owens, Henry Springman, and William Bush. Here we wandered in the footsteps of the ancient Egyptians, Greeks, and Romans under the capable tutelage of Mr. E. V. Crowe. We numbered one hundred and ten and felt quite proud of being high school students.

The Sophomore year found us diminished in numbers. The severity of Freshman subjects had taken its toll, and we, the remainder again assumed a scholarly attitude by coping with figures of grotesque likeness in geometry. The second year of high school displayed the great literature of the Middle Ages, by bringing out of the land of study, the figures of Silas Marner and the Ancient Mariner. In history we joined the conquests of Napoleon. Sophomore A and B were under the supervision of Brothers Charles King and Robert Brown. The year passed swiftly with the realization that one-half our high school career had been completed.

Juniors! How big we felt, we were now upper classmen and had to act like gentlemen. Again our numbers dwindled, and now we numbered only seventy-five. Our class professors were Brothers Nicholas Schaeffer, who taught German, and Brother Leo Madison who taught English. The interesting subject of Chemistry with its formulas and laws was taught by Brother Charles Krug. The main features of the Junior year were the selection of a class ring and the formation of the Thomas A. Edison Science Club. The Juniors were noted for their athletic powers. The first team in basketball being composed entirely of Juniors. The football and boxing squads contained a large percentage of Juniors.

The last lap in our education at Holy Redeemer. At last our ambition was realized; we were Seniors. Brother Joseph Baumeister was appointed in the place of Brother Joseph Stamler who had been with us as principal for four years. Brother George Siegwarth began his first at Redeemer as a Senior Prefect. Under the leadership of these men an "Annual Book" was proposed and agreed upon, and other activities such as the Dramatic Club, the Glee Club and the Camera Club were sponsored as well as other undertakings that would enliven the spirit of the student body. Soon the Senior year drew to a close—the month of May—Graduation.

SENIOR GIRLS' CLASS HISTORY

As we stand on the threshold of Commencement, peering hopefully into the future, a host of memories crowds upon us—memories, happy and sad, each a thread woven into the tapestry of our high school days at our beloved Holy Redeemer.

Against a glorious background of purple and gold, when but Freshmen, we wove our first strand—the verdant green of our lofty hopes and ambitions. As we joyfully entered into new realms of learning, our outstanding propensity for knowledge inspired us to an eager study of Latin and Algebra; and we soon made rapid progress in these subjects. Later, on the basketball court, we distinguished ourselves by acquiring the Intramural Championship. When June arrived, we felt that we had been fully initiated into high school life and proudly looked forward to our coming student days.

Our Sophomore year was one of militant endeavor. Foremost among the obstacles looming before us was the mighty Caesar and his strategic warfare. Next, the triumphant figure of Charlemagne marched from history's pages to entrance us with the color and chivalry of the Middle Ages. Biology followed, and many an enjoyable hour was spent in unweaving the enthralling secrets of Mother Nature. Courageously, we battled through our second year; and finally the tapestry glowed with our strands of valiant red, interwoven as a token of victory.

To symbolize the sunshine of our Junior year, we borrowed from daffodil and sunbeam their glowing yellow. Having attained the estate of upper classmen, we carried ourselves with the dignity characteristic of our position and zealously applied ourselves to Cicero, Geometry, and Chemistry. How proud we were to join the Students' Spiritual Council and be counted among the band of Catholic Students upholding the standard of Christ! Then the Oratorical Contest claimed our attention, and we won distinction in the field of oratory. Time passed and soon the departure of our Senior schoolmates heralded the realization that our goal was almost reached.

September, 1932, found us, sixty-one in number, assuming the long anticipated role of Seniors. Our journey's course took us into the realms of dazzling light and raging heat; carried us, with Virgil, back to the days of ancient Troy; transported us into the glorious regions of English poetry and romance; the while we engaged in our cherished extra-curricular activities, proving our ability in the forensic field, in dramatic art, and editorial work. Then the trumpet call, announcing "A Tribute to Saint Alphonsus," bade us join the pageantry commemorating the double centennary of the Redemptorist Order. Back to routine affairs once more, we became members of the first Holy Redeemer Girls' Glee Club, organized under the direction of Professor D'Avignon Morel. An inspiring retreat, conducted by the Reverend H. Sutton, C. Ss. R., gave us the grace and spiritual vigor to enter upon our fast approaching life in the world. At last, with the completion of the work on the Campanile and the arrival of May, we are brought nearer to graduation. Tenderly we place the old rose and silver of our Senior year in its place of honor in our completed tapestry.

Joy commingles with sorrow as we bid our Faculty and schoolmates farewell. Yet our motto "Non scholae sed vitae" binds us to them forever. In the distance, the strains of our triumphal march sound the roll call of the Class of 1933; so, with a tear and a smile, we say, "Farewell, and God bless you, Alma Mater!"

THE winding stream gurgling, mournful, hurrying, dallying to the lake, the river, the ocean—goal at last! How like the wandering stream our school life. Threading our course, sometimes happy, sometimes sad, again fired with ambition and then lagging in despair. But ultimately the goal—graduation.

REVIEW OF THE SEASON

THE year nineteen thirty-two will be remembered as one of the most remarkable in the football history of Redeemer. For the first time in four years the team was a serious contender for the title. The league competition was marred by one defeat and one tie, giving it the runner-up position. In the non-league contests the Lions didn't fare so well losing two and winning but one. For the entire season the team outscored their opponents 123 points to 58 points.

REDEEMER 46 ..... CATHOLIC CENTRAL 0

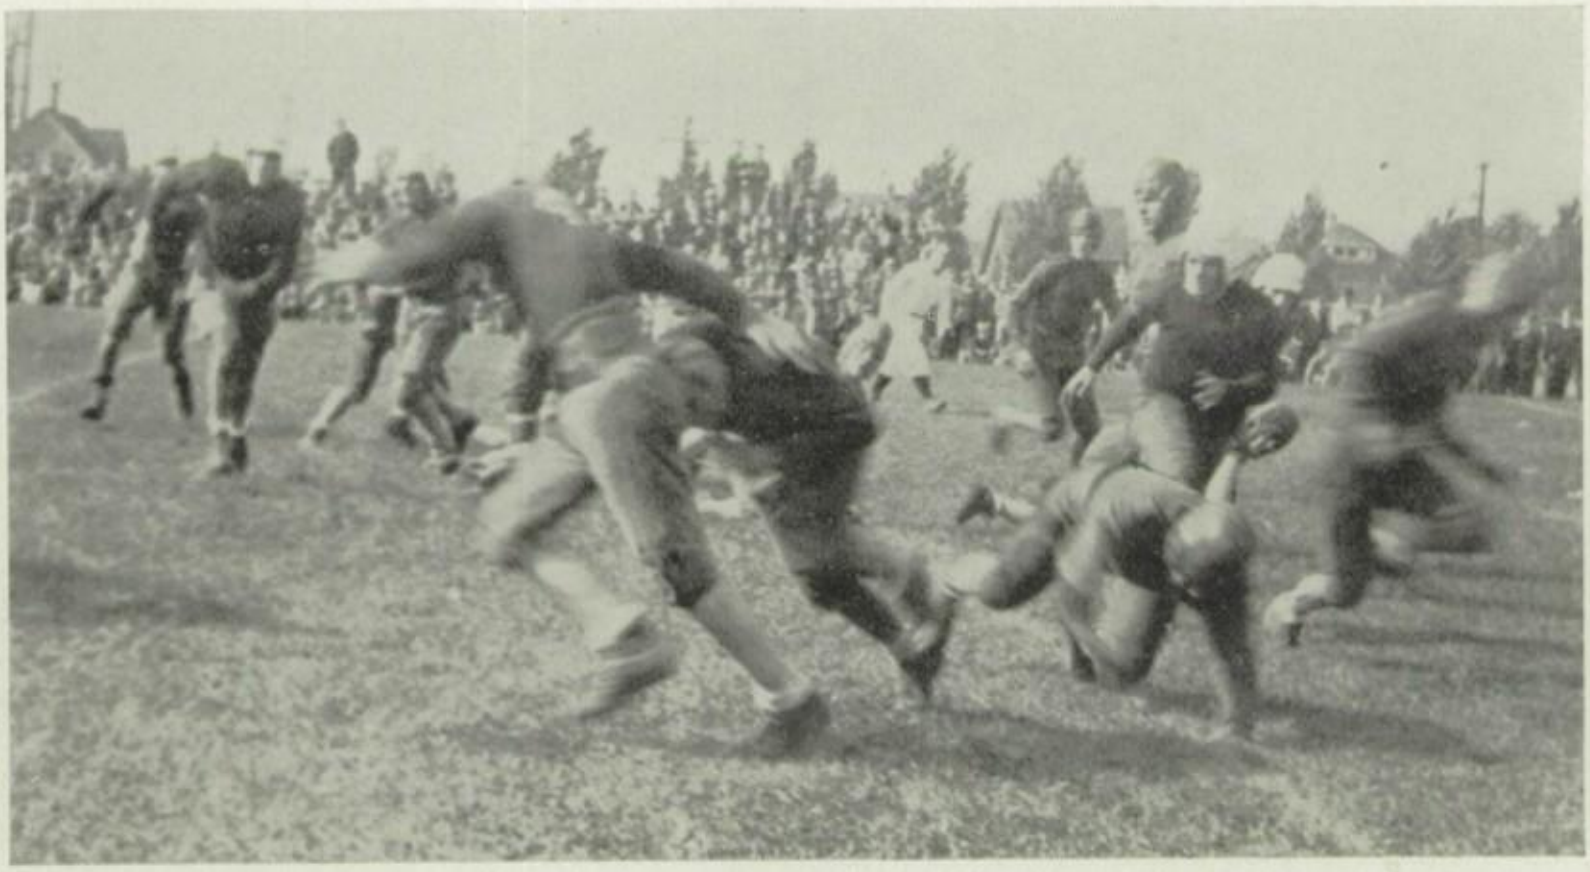
The season began on September 30 with an impressive victory over Catholic Central. In this game the Lions exhibited more aggressiveness and scoring ability than they had shown in many years. This was a glorious triumph, ending the scoreless ties that had existed in the gridiron engagement between the two schools for the past three years. At no time during the contest was Central able to stop the powerful Redeemer attack. During the second half, the substitutes not only held the opponents but increased the margin of victory.

REDEEMER 0 ..... SOUTHWESTERN 21

The first setback was received at the hands of Southwestern, the neighborhood rival. However, the defeat was not as complete as the score would suggest. With regard to first downs and yards earned from scrimmage, the Lions outgained the enemy. Fumbles and intercepted passes proved costly and were responsible for the three touchdowns. Whenever the Redeemer team neared the goal line it lacked the scoring punch displayed in the first game.

REDEEMER 32 ..... ST. MARY 0

The Orchard Lake eleven fell before the Lions in the third game of the season. This victory avenged a defeat inflicted by St. Mary in 1931. In this contest aerial attack was very successful.



REVIEW OF THE SEASON

REDEEMER 32 ..... ST. ANTHONY 0

St. Anthony was the next victim of the Lions. During the game the Purple and Gold warriors advanced the ball at will and crossed the goal line five times. In the second half substitutes checked the East-Siders' attack, and had enough power to score.

REDEEMER 6 ..... DE LA SALLE 6

The game with the 1931 champions was one of the most interesting contests of the schedule. In the second quarter, after a sustained drive, a pass from Maher to Duva resulted in Redeemer's only touchdown. This lead was maintained throughtout the third quarter. But the Pilots came back in the last frame with an attack that the Lions were unable to stop. With two minutes remaining, La Salle advanced the ball from midfield and crossed the goal line on a short plunge, tying the score. The Redeemer ends blocked the attempt for the extra point as the game ended. Lessnau's courage and determination were displayed throughout the struggle.

REDEEMER 7 ..... ST. JOSEPH 13

In the most thrilling game of the year the Lions went down to a 13—7 defeat before the St. Joseph eleven. The Blue team scored twice in the first half. However, the Lions came back during remainder of the game. La Cross and Maher made long gains and advanced the ball to the two yard line, where Crnkovitch plunged over. In the fading moments of the game Redeemer backs caused much excitement by advancing the ball to the five yard line. But the opponents' defense withstood the battery and checked the advance of the Lions. This game gave the city title to the St. Joseph eleven.

REDEEMER 0 ..... OUR LADY OF LOURDES 18

On Thanksgiving Day the Lions met a setback at the hands of the River Rouge team. Play was hampered by extremely cold weather and ice which covered the entire field. Redeemer received the kickoff and marched eighty yards down the field, only to fumble when less than ten yards from the goal. Several misplays and a blocked punt proved costly to the Redeemer cause.

THE VARSITY

ANTHONY KULICK, '30, '31, '32
Left Guard

TONY is an aggressive little lineman noted in the Catholic division for his indomitable fighting spirit. Through the season his play has been outstanding. He displayed all the ruggedness and power of his older brother and will be a most valuable asset to the play of next year's team.

JOHN GILLIS, '31, '32
Left End

PLAYING his second year on the regular team, John turned in a fine performance. Despite his small stature, he was an excellent pass receiver. Many times he broke through the opponent's line to cut down the ball-carrier. Gillis will be available for two more years of service. Redeemer is certainly assured of a capable end for two more campaigns.

JOSEPH KULICK, '29, '30, '31, '32
Right Guard

JOE KULICK, a veteran Varsity player of four years, was chosen co-captain of the nineteen thirty-two team. Joe leaves behind him a football record of which he may be proud. Throughout his high school career, he has been distinguished by his rugged line play. In 1931 he was selected on the Catholic All-City team. Filling Joe's position on next year's team will be a difficult task.

HAROLD CAMPBELL, '29, '31, '32
Guard

HAROLD must be given much credit for his great perseverance. "Beans" was a hard hitting lineman, possessing a fine sense of sportsmanship. After three years of honest effort Harold secured a Varsity letter on the 1932 team. He has set a fine example for every football aspirant to follow.

THE VARSITY

GERARD LIVERNOIS, '29, '30, '31, '32
Right End

FOR the past two seasons the right end position has been very capably filled by Jerry. He was one of the most consistent performers on the team. No matter how hard the going, the right end of the line was held up by a well trained, tireless gridder. Jerry will be lost to Redeemer by graduation.

REGIS CASH, '31, '32
Left Tackle

IN his second year on the Varsity, Cash proved his worth on the line. Besides aiding the team with his all around playing, "Slug" greatly bolstered the squad's morale by his determination and cheerfulness. When the going became the hardest, Regis' smile beamed the brightest. Such spirit is a great aid to any team.

ROSS LESSNAU, '32
Right Tackle

Ross, making his debut in Varsity competition, developed into one of the finest tackles Redeemer ever boasted. His stellar play during the season secured for him a position on the Catholic All-City team and All-State Mention. It may be added that Ross was one of the sturdiest players ever to don a football uniform.

ANTHONY KUDRON '31, '32
Center

HIS first year on the Varsity team has been a successful one for Tony. His ability of diagnosing opponent's plays, rapidly and accurately, has been a factor in many of the team's victories. During his remaining years of service on the Redeemer team great things may be expected of Kudron as center.

THE VARSITY

EDWARD LA CROSS, '29, '30, '31, '32
Right Halfback

IN Eddie, Redeemer had the most experienced player in the Catholic League. For four years La Cross has gained ground effectively through expert broken field running. His tackling and blocking featured his play. To him, the distinction goes of being placed as halfback on the All-City Team for three consecutive years. La Cross co-captained the 1932 season.

CARMEN DUVA, '30, '31, '32
Quarterback

CARM, the team's smallest man, has piloted the Varsity through two years with varying success. In Duva the team had an alert leader with a keen sense of sportsmanship. The mighty atom scored many points through his ability to snare passes. In losing Carm, Redeemer will suffer the loss of a very popular player and face the tremendous task of filling the quarter back position.

JOHN MAHER, '30, '31, '32
Left Halfback

JOHN was a star back field man throughout the season. His passing, running, and punting made him a truly triple-threat man. Maher was a greatly feared player by all the opposing elevens. At the end of the season his effort was rewarded by a place on the Catholic All-City team. John will be lost through graduation.

THOMAS CRNKOVITCH, '31, '32
Fullback

TOM could always be counted upon to pick up a few yards when needed. Many times his smashing plunges meant touchdowns for Redeemer. Tom is a clean hard-hitting fullback. In one year of Varsity competition he has developed into an outstanding player. He has a bright future ahead of him at Redeemer.

THE VARSITY

CARMEN DUVA '31, '32, '33
Left Forward

DUVA, captaining this year's quintet, was a veteran of three campaigns. Carmen was a small player but adept at getting around larger opponents for points. He led the Lion's scorers for total points garnered and placed second in the Catholic League scoring column.

JAMES DEGROOT, '32, '33
Center

DEGROOT, although medium size for a center, played that position to perfection. His arms seemed always in the way of the opponent's ball and he was a reliable shot around the basket.

EDWARD LA CROSS, '32, '33
Left Guard

LA CROSS, was a two-year man at guard. His tenacious guarding and accurate shooting featured his playing. Eddie played a very consistent game the entire season. His ability to get the ball off the backboard made Eddie a valuable man at guard.

GERARD LIVERNOIS, '32, '33
Center

LIVERNOIS' close guarding and speed made him both a defensive asset, and an offensive threat. Jerry, a hard player, will be missed from next year's squad.

THE VARSITY

DESMOND SHEEDY, '32, '33
Right Forward

SHEEDY, playing his second season on the Lion squad performed at forward. Desmond's chief attribute was breaking through the defense and getting shots at the basket. He was fast and shifty, and was recognized by Lion opponents as a hard player.

WILLIAM KOLBE, '31, '32, '33
Utility

KOLBE, was another three-year letter man. Bill was the most versatile man on the squad, playing either forward or guard as the occasion demanded.

JOHN MAHER, '31, '32, '33
Right Guard

MAHER, playing his third year on the Varsity, was an aggressive man with remarkable speed and endurance. His ability to cover more than his allotted territory made him a valuable asset. John was an elusive dribbler and an accurate passer—qualities not generally found in one man.

GERARD MCGRATH, '33
Student Manager

MCGRATH performed the little thought of and less appreciated duties of student manager. Day in and day out he took care of all the athletic equipment and at times administered first aid. Only the players in a position to require the services of a manager appreciate his work.

REVIEW OF THE SEASON

THE basketball season was very successful, despite the fact that a few losses were suffered. The Redeemer Quintet exhibited to the utmost their almost perfect basketball ability during the league season.

REDEEMER 28 ..... ALUMNI 4

The first victory of the season for Redeemer was at the expense of their Alumni. At the first half the graduates succeeded in holding the Lions to a somewhat close score. The count at the half being 8—4. The last of the second half saw the Alumni held scoreless. Sheedy played a fine game for the Lions.

REDEEMER 27 ..... ST. JOSEPH 24

The second official game, and a second successive victory for Redeemer. In the first quarter the Lions scored rapidly but during the second quarter the St. Joe's Quintet overtook the Lions. The count at the half being 13—12 still in favor of Redeemer. Both teams during the second half showed a wonderful constancy both in playing and scoring. However, the Lions' fine teamwork managed to keep above that of the opponents until the final whistle. In this game the high point man was Duva with the outstanding record of 13 points. Sheedy also played well.

REDEEMER 27 ..... ST. ANTHONY 8

A decisive victory for the Lions. The excellent defense displayed held St. Anthony to only three field goals. Maher was high point man, also outstanding in this game was La Cross who, due to his defensive ability held the opponents to few field goals.

REDEEMER 28 ..... CATHOLIC CENTRAL 18

A fast game with the Lions virtually running away in the first half. The count at the termination of the half being 21—8. However, Catholic Central played an even game to some extent showing some aggressiveness in the second half. De Groot was an outstanding player in this game.

REDEEMER 19 ..... DE LA SALLE 22

The game with De La Salle resulted in a defeat for Redeemer. Although the Lions led at the half by three points, the De La Salle Quintet came in strong at the second half. Toward the last quarter the scoring was so close that victory was impossible to predict. However, in the last few minutes of play De La Salle made a basket which decided the close contest.

REDEEMER 30 ..... ST. CATHERINE 15

The Lions met St. Catherine's with their second team who were able to hold their east side opponents but unable to lead in the scoring. The first team was substituted at the second quarter and at the half they had succeeded in obtaining a five point lead. The second half found the Lions piling up a large margin. In this game La Cross and De Groot were the outstanding players.

REDEEMER 34 ..... ASSUMPTION 8

The Purple Cagers from across the river were trounced by the Lions in a non-league game. The margin attained was due to the advantage of the Redeemer team against the poor defensive style displayed by the Assumption team. In this game Livernois, Duva and Maher made six points each.

REDEEMER 31 ..... ST. JOSEPH 25

The Lions defeated the blue-clad boys a second time in a fast but peculiar game. The Purple and the Gold clicked well in the first half and possessed such a safe margin as to insure a positive victory. The fourth quarter and the second team was substituted, immediately the blue cagers sank basket after basket and with but three minutes to play our victory seemed to be crumbling into failure. Then the first team again went into action which resulted in a Redeemer victory. The high point men were Duva and De Groot with eight points each.

HAIL TO REDEEMER

Music by REYNOLDS MEIER Words by BROTHER F. SERVAITES

Redeemer Hi! Redeemer Hi!
We're here to cheer for you again;
Whate'er you do, where're you go,
We'll be your loyal, fighting men,
When fates are bright and in your might,
You flaunt your banner to the sky,
We're always true and loyal to Redeemer Hi!

CHORUS:

Hail to Redeemer! Glory to her name.
Praise to Redeemer! Spread her glorious fame.
As years are passing, keep her Purple bright,
Gold never dimming, clothed in Victory's light.
Redeemer Hi! Redeemer Hi!
Your living motto's always clear.
Though friends may fall, from duty's call,
We love you Alma Mater dear!

(Repeat the chorus.)

VARSITY BASKETBALL

HOLY REDEEMER Girls' Varsity basketball team opened its season with a victory, winning their first game from St. Theresa. The Redeemerites scored 48 points to the opponent's 5.

A second victory was marked on their record when the "Violets" met a new opponent, St. Gregory. This was St. Gregory's first year in league basketball; they were easily defeated by the Redeemer team, scoring only 3 points to our 33.

Our first game away was with Redeemer's old rival, St. Mary of Royal Oak. The splendid pass work of the Redeemer Six enabled them to defeat their opponents 41 to 22.

The contest with St. Ambrose, the only team that marked a victory against Holy Redeemer last year, again brought success for the "Violets." They emerged on the last end of a 30 to 6 score.

Our next opponents were the girls from the Academy of the Sacred Heart, Detroit. The inexperience of the opposition proved fatal to them; they were easily conquered, bowing to defeat by a score of 50 to 8.

The second encounter with St. Mary of Royal Oak, on our own floor, was a hard fought game. However, it added another mark to our successive victories. When the final whistle blew the score was 26 to 13 in favor of the Holy Redeemer Sextet.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The next game had been eagerly anticipated, as it was to be played at Adrian. Our team, realizing that Holy Redeemer had never been defeated by St. Joseph Academy, went out with a determination to win, and brought home a victory—the Adrian girls scoring 6 points to our 24.

Meeting—for the first time—the team from the Academy of the Sacred Heart, Grosse Pointe, Holy Redeemer easily conquered them 29 to 8, thus totaling their successive victories to eight.

Success followed once more, when after a difficult struggle, Holy Redeemer, in their second encounter with St. Ambrose, proved their superiority by scoring 26 points to the opponent's 10.

St. Theresa's strong team made another attempt to stop the successive victories of the "Violets," but the Holy Redeemer girls came out victorious after a fast and hard fought battle, scoring 18 points to St. Theresa's 16.

"Then the tide turned!" In their last game the strong Redeemer team met defeat at the hands of the St. Mary Academy, Monroe, Sextet. Playing under new rules proved fatal for our girls, and they returned reporting a lost battle, the score being 21 to 11 in favor of the opposition.

ONCE part of a great mountain, proud, noble—these rocks tell the story of the ravages of time and the elements. We are now vital, integral parts of that vast organization, Society. Time will usher us into the oblivion of old age. Haply we can re-live our lives in pictures, with their stories of pathos and gaiety; pictures, with their stories of failures and successes.

A STATE grows and prospers in proportion to the development of its natural resources. We picture here a Michigan forest, carefully pruned and wisely restocked, a source of untold wealth to the State. A student body is rated primarily on its scholastic accomplishments, and secondarily on its versatility in developing organizations of a cultural value. Holy Redeemer will prosper because it is outstanding in these qualities.

ORGANIZATIONS

EDITORIAL STAFF

ALPHONSE CONIFF
Editor-in-Chief

Yours forever.

RESPONSIBILITY is the test of courage. Many efforts are easy when the success of the enterprise is assured by some one else. But to enter a new field and know that the planning and directing as well as the accomplishment of every project is matter entirely personal calls for a high degree of courage. The fear of failure has daunted and stopped many grand enterprises.

Responsibility is the test of leadership. Courage alone will not bring success. Without proper leadership courage is not an asset but a liability. The great call for leadership that at present has gone unanswered throughout the nation is significant. Leadership demands knowledge and vision.

Under the guidance of Brother George Siegwarth, as faculty advisor, the editorial staff of the CAMPANILE courageously undertook the work of the present annual. Despite discouragements and disappointments, refusals and lack of cooperation, they have stood the test. They worked zealously and devotedly at their assigned tasks until they achieved their goal.

BUSINESS STAFF

WILLIAM KOLBE
Business Manager

DIFFICULTIES are obstacles to be overcome. From the beginning the business staff had to overcome difficulties. Ads were hard to get despite the reduction in prices. Patrons grew fewer. The project seemed hopeless.

Continued striving and much campaigning soon made itself felt. Merchants generously responded and friends generously contributed. Withal it was not enough. Paper drives, card parties, selling tickets on commission, dramatic performances, sale of pots and pennants, and gymnasium work all were directed towards producing revenue for the annual.

Urging, persuading, pleading, the annual staff kept up their enthusiasm, despite the indifference and rebuffs of others, until they saw the goal in sight. Finally came the great subscription drive.

The business staff gratefully appreciate the efforts of all who have cooperated to make this work a success.

ART STAFF

ANTHONY ALLEN
Art Editor

CREATION is the work of an artist. The success of his work depends upon the greatness of his conception and his fidelity in realizing his ideal. Too often this work is regarded as a series of triumphs and pleasures. Actually however, it is long and tedious routine. So much must be done and all must be well done.

Faithful to the principles of their art much that is good must be discarded because it will not fit in with the general plan or scheme. Much must be altered because it does not harmonize. Many efforts are directed towards securing pleasing charm or novelty of design and withal time is pressing, the work must be finished.

Brother Francis Servaites has been the soul and inspiration of the art staff. Under his direction the work has moved steadily to the desired perfection. The general appeal of the annual make-up is due to their excellent designing and accomplishments. Much credit is due to them for creating a work of art.

MISSION CLUB

TODAY the Church is facing a stupendous problem—to preserve and increase the faith at home and to lead the pagan nations of the Orient to the one true Fold. A mighty task, but one in which the Class of 1933 has proved willing to co-operate.

This year an active unit of the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade was organized separately from the Students' Spiritual Council. This did not hinder the girls from undertaking the activities of the Chi Rho Mission Club, nor from forming a new mission unit under the title of the Senior Samaritans. The latter organization concerned itself with mission work in our own parish. By the collection of small weekly fees, the members were able to assist more than one poor family. The Chi Rho Club conducted a school-wide campaign for stamps and tin foil, encouraged a one hundred per cent registration in the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, and produced more than one dramatic sketch to encourage, among the student body, a knowledge and love for Mission activities.

Through the coming years the missionaries hope to continue, on a larger scale, the work they have started. They leave their Alma Mater with the wish that future classes will produce many new friends for the missions, and that the prayers and alms of loyal students will continue to assist the active laborers in the Vineyard of the Lord.

APOSTOLIC COMMITTEE

BERNICE GILCHRIST
President

IN his encyclicals, Pope Pius XI has traced, in broad lines, the ways in which the faithful may help to restore Christ's kingdom. One of the most noteworthy of these forms of Catholic Action is the "education of the young."

Like the disciples of old, modern catholic youth has answered the call of the Holy Father and the members of the Holy Redeemer Apostolic Committee are participating in the work. True to the example of their predecessors, many of the Class of 1933 willingly offered their services in spreading the Gospel of Christ. This year the girls confined their labors to the parish and aided the Sisters in their work with Catholic children attending public schools. Twice a week the apostolic group gave their free time to instructing the children coming for religious training after school hours. Tiny hands were taught to make the sign of the Cross, and youthful hearts heard the Word of God.

Since its foundation, the Apostolic Committee has ever been one of the most active organizations of the school. The Class of 1933 feels sure that future classes will continue to carry on this praiseworthy activity, and so leave it in their hands, with a prayer that God will continue to bless the noble work.

SENIOR ACOLYTICAL SOCIETY

NORBERT PYKA
President

IT would seem a fair statement to say that the members of the Holy Redeemer Acolytical Society have more to do than the members of similar organizations throughout the world. Holy Redeemer is a parish of six thousand families.

In ministering to this large congregation the altar boy is the regular attendant and server of the officiating priest. There are daily Masses starting at six o'clock in the morning and every half hour till ten or later on week days. On Sundays and Holydays of Obligation the Masses start at half-past five and continue till twelve o'clock. There are also three services in the lower church on these days. The fact that last year 310,000 Communions were distributed testifies to the zeal of the priests and the response of the parishioners. Can any other parish in the world claim such a record?

In the early part of this year a group of Seniors who were altar boys banded together and formed the Senior Servers. Norbert Pyka was chosen president. The organization took an edifying part in all the church activities of the high school. This was especially conspicuous during the high school retreat. They served the Mass, Stations of the Cross, and Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. The manner in which they acquitted themselves in these functions was edifying to all the students assembled for the services.

STUDENTS' SPIRITUAL COUNCIL

MARY WINIFRED KERWIN
President

AN army of youth flying the standard of Truth!" Such an inspiring spectacle is the Students' Spiritual Council. Is it any wonder, that with a triumphant cry for Personal Sanctity and Catholic Action, the Class of 1933 eagerly adapted themselves to the role of Senior members of this organization? With Catholic Action as their password, Personal Sanctity as their goal, and Catholic Leadership as their aim, the girls "dared to be different," so they enthusiastically launched upon this magnificent crusade.

The outstanding events of the year were: the Rally held in our Auditorium at which Father Lord addressed the sodalists; the organization of a chapter of the Handmaids of the Blessed Sacrament; the character building campaign; the Book Drive, inaugurated to enrich the depleted shelves of our library with Catholic books; and the monthly assemblies of the Council with their splendid programs. Besides these activities, our Council was represented at every D. C. S. C. meeting, the Rally assembled in Toledo on February twenty-second, and the newly organized Evidence Guild. The annual May Day celebration too, found hundreds of students of Holy Redeemer marching under the blue and white of Our Lady's Banner.

The Class of 1933 point with pride to the spiritual activities of the year, and with reluctant hearts, relinquish to the incoming Seniors "our best loved" organization.

ENGLISH CLUB

REFINED diction, enlarged vocabulary, ease and fluency in speaking and writing, a love for good literature, and an appreciation for dramatic art—such are the standards for which the "E" Club has striven.

To attain these objectives, the Club sponsored a variety of activities. Book reports and discussions on current magazine articles were monthly features. The finest types of literature were studied, in the hope that familiarity with polished English would produce a realization that the real beauty of the English language is concealed under the garb of the so-called "American expressions."

But we did not confine ourselves to reading and study. Bravely we entered the realm of the writer and made useful attempts at essay writing, feature articles, and poetry. An interest in public speaking was stimulated by debating and regular public speaking periods. The outstanding achievement in this art was the delivery of an original oration. The oratorical contest, following the preliminaries, not only witnessed some friendly rivalry, but also proved most interesting. Last, but not least, we delved into dramatics! Programs, honoring famous poets and authors, were a regular feature of our activities. Mock trials and short playlets, notably "The Trial of Miss Careless Student" and "Ask Nancy," were prominent presentations. Our privilege of participating in the Bi-Centennial Pageant, "A Tribute to St. Alphonsus," provided a deeply appreciated opportunity to display our dramatic ability.

Since the English Club has proved to be a potent instrument for the cultivation of better English, we urge our successors to continue the work. Our parting wish is that they may enjoy their membership as much as did the Class of 1933.

VARSITY DEBATING TEAM

CHARLES PIGGOTT
Captain

A FEW weeks after the beginning of the school year, Brother Frank Servaites called for volunteers for the debating team. From the very first he had a very difficult problem as only one member remained from the team of the previous year. From the candidates, two Seniors, a Junior, and two Sophomores were chosen. In preparation for the season, practice debates were conducted with fifteen of the foremost local high schools including McKenzie, city champions; Northwestern, Pershing, Redford, and River Rouge.

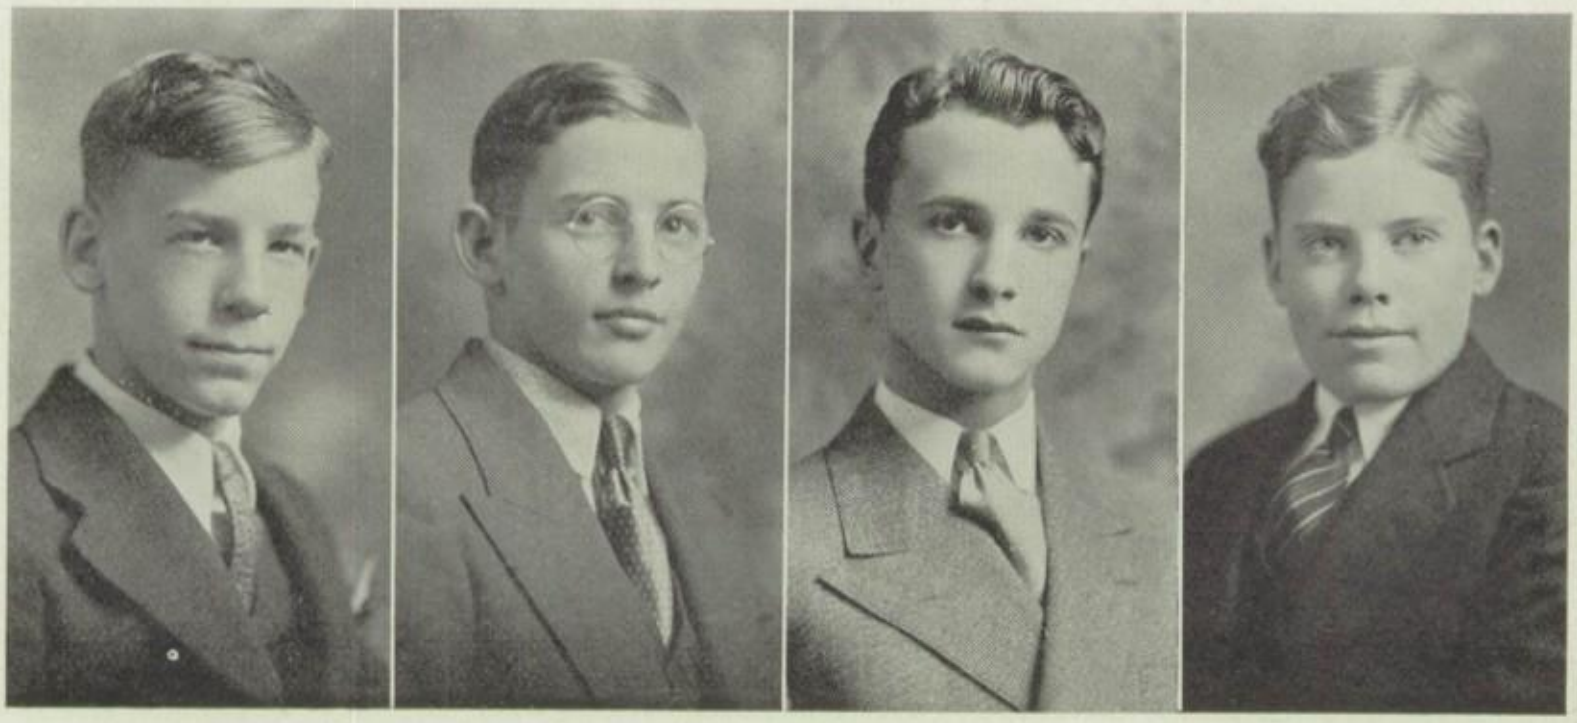
This year the subject for debate was, "Resolved, that the State of Michigan should adopt an Income Tax." According to the rules of the Michigan High School Debating League sponsored by the University of Michigan, the debates were divided into two series—preliminary and elimination. In order to enter the eliminations, a team had to score at least eleven points in the preliminaries.

In the first debate, the Redeemer team, consisting of Harold Kehoe, Belding Nagel and Charles Piggott, upholding the affirmative, was defeated by a more experienced St. Anthony team.

Redeemer met Birmingham next and lost a close debate. Defending the negative side of the question, the Lions decisively defeated Oxford High School. Incidentally the loser was the runner-up for the state championship in 1932. Lincoln Van Dyke won a decision over Redeemer in the next debate.

This was the final debate, as the Lions did not have a sufficient number of points to qualify them for the elimination. At the end of the season, letters were awarded to Captain Charles Piggott, Harold Kehoe, Belding Nagel, Timothy Burke, and Thomas Breitenbeck. Although they did not equal the achievements of the team of last year, their record is commendable. The difficulty of the schedule is shown by the fact that the four teams debated all reached the eliminations.

Belding Nagel | Thomas Breitenbeck | Harold Kehoe | Timothy Burke



QUILL CLUB

DOROTHEA JOHNSTON
President

A BIT of pep and spirit that no other club possesses seems imbued in this infant organization. It has achieved distinction through its original work, and is already one of the most popular and helpful clubs of the Senior year.

Sincerity and a touch of light whimsicality were shown in the first original production of the year, a mock trial entitled "Miss Careless Student." In this playlet, the girls showed how cleverly one can mingle a little tragedy, a bit of humor, a true moral, and still make the product a rare bit of entertainment.

The gay spirit of the holidays was portrayed in the Quill Club's most ingenious manner. In their endeavor to bring to the audience the spirit of the holiday season, as celebrated in each country, the girls produced a miniature masterpiece. Then there were the "little-in-between-acts" such as writing poetry, weekly notes, and editing an Annual—work that kept the girls busy and happy throughout the year.

The Class of 1933 now lay down their quills, advance to the next step in life, and leave it to you, the Class of 1934—our school friends and successors—to write life's little dramas with the Quill Club's sharpest quills. "Possunt quia posse videntur." (They can who think they can.)

DRAMATIC CLUB

FRANCIS WURTSMITH
President

CONGRATULATIONS, Actors! We the Senior Class of "thirty-three" are proud of such a Club. Throughout the year they have proved themselves true sons of the footlights. Notable talent has been exhibited by the members.

Under the expert direction of Brother George Siegwarth, the guild has produced praiseworthy plays and gained much knowledge of literature as well as a true appreciation for the drama. Organized in November, the club entertained the Student Body in January. They chose a farce entitled, "Our First Performance," as their initial production. A hilarious comedy, "The Yellow Robe," was presented in February. These offerings merited much favorable criticism.

The dramatic guild has proved to be a club of great activity. Every member has been as active as the group itself. Besides carrying them into fields of literature and drama, their work has secured for them invaluable experience in platform speaking as well as in the art of make-up. By steady, untiring efforts and perseverance the group attained its ultimate end—success.

The organization, whose membership was restricted to twenty, held their meetings one evening a week in the school library. These gatherings were very business-like and productive of fine results. During the course of the meeting, future plays were chosen, parts assigned, business discussed, scenes practised, and scripts read and corrected. Attendance was always up to par because of the great interest in the work. Francis Wurtsmith had the honor of presiding over these assemblies as President. He was ably assisted by J. Hurley, Vice-President, R. Coatsworth, Secretary, and J. De Groot, Treasurer.

VIRGIL CLUB

MARGARET TUCKER
President

ORGANIZED five years ago, the Virgil Club has grown into one of our major organizations, this year's club claiming the largest registration since its inception. Membership is restricted to the Latin students—to those who have shown so intense an interest as to study it for four years—two years longer than the compulsory time.

"Vincit qui laborat!" Well does our motto explain the success of the Latin students. Labor, earnest and sincere, was required to conquer the difficult passages and puzzling constructions. But all was not labor. Variety, in the form of short plays, was provided by the club. Playlets depicting important scenes and events in the life of Virgil, were presented at frequent intervals. A keener insight into the character of this lofty poet was our desire; and we know that we have attained it, at least to some small degree.

The Latin Contest, sponsored by the University of Detroit, was eagerly prepared for by the club members and eager competition resulted. Finally Margaret Tucker, Mary Winifred Kerwin, and Josephine Bruce, were chosen to participate; while Virginia Bonkowski, Catharine Wallace and Mary Agnes Burke were named as substitutes.

The members of the class of nineteen thirty-three are reluctant to relinquish their membership in this absorbing club, but they are consoled by the thought that they have an excellent knowledge of that never-changing and noble Latin language.

DEBATING CLUB

LORETTA WALLACE
President

THE Seniors of 1933 entered with enthusiasm into plans for the reorganization of that most vital of our scholastic activities, the Debating Club. Membership was left optional, thus rendering every volunteer willing, interested, and eager to cooperate. The self-assurance and ease of manner, developed through the series of debates so capably conducted, has been apparent to even the least observant. The development of these qualities, together with the training in clear thinking and effective persuasion, has been ample compensation for the long hours of labor consumed in studying propositions, preparing briefs, and assembling material for the finished argument.

Every other week the halls resounded to the persuasive oratory of the debaters as they propounded the deeply absorbing questions chosen for discussion. Inter-Club debates were again the type of contest, a definite plan being followed with each subject selected. Four teams studied the proposition. Two debates were thus prepared, and the winning teams met in a final contest. This method provided greater interest and enthusiasm among a larger group of debaters and enabled each member of the club to prove her forensic power at least twice during the debating season.

Such questions as the necessity of a Child Labor Amendment, Disarmament, Filipino Independence, and the Movies were the subjects debated. This aggregation of topics, ably discussed, has written a page in the history of the Debating Club of Holy Redeemer Girls' High School, and we feel that the organization has more than achieved its purpose.

GLEE CLUB

WILLIAM KOLBE
President

SONG is the voice of the soul. Truly the trained voice holds a wealth of beauty and inspiration. One of the most pleasant things in the world is to listen to a beautiful song. The human voice is the instrument of God. Thus in an effort to cultivate the beautiful, and as an encouragement to student talent, the glee club was formed.

Display of ability and interest in this newly organized club has been edifying. The students were enthusiastic over the chance to show their proficiency at singing or to cultivate their voices. Despite the fact no McCormicks or Casanovas are boasted, many singers of promise were enrolled. The club was segregated into groups, namely tenors, baritones, and bases.

Under the direction of its able moderator, Brother Charles Krug, strenuous practice sessions were conducted. He was succeeded by Brother Robert Blume in February. Wednesday afternoons, fifty lusty glee club voices could be heard preparing for some appearance. These practices proved to be productive of very fine results.

On Thursday, March 16, the glee club won the approval of the student body. They sang at the Nameday Celebration of Reverend Father Joseph Elenz. The group received the compliments of Father Elenz as well as winning the praise of the students. Both the Senior and Junior divisions of the glee club were arranged together on the stage. Their performance was a great success.

CAMERA CLUB

VINCENT WAGATHA
President

PICTURES are treasures locked in my heart." Photographs truly are precious possessions which refresh our memories. In recognition of this fact the Camera Club has always been an active organization at Redeemer.

The veteran club which was organized in nineteen twenty-seven has completed another successful year. While the activity of former years has not been shown, the group has done a great part in making the CAMPANILE a success.

Principally through the feature section of the annual, the club has endeavored to impart some of the treasures of photography to the student body. Under the able direction of Brother Charles Krug, who expended much time and energy in the work, the Camera Club has gained a wealth of knowledge in this line. This organization dedicated to the art of photography has entered extensively into the study of developing and printing. Moreover during instructions enlarging and tinting were studied to a slight extent. Knowledge gained in such courses may prove helpful to many of the members.

The Camera Club, year after year retains a hold on the student body. There are reasons for this ardent interest displayed in the organization. Besides giving an insight into the very useful art of photography, the club renders a fascinating feature section for the Annual possible. These causes combined with the many others make the Camera Club one of the schools most popular groups.

RING COMMITTEE

As in former years, the class rings were selected in the Junior year. The boys' committee chose a ring from a wide variety, but the design was not accepted until Anthony Allen, the class artist, submitted a design which proved very popular with the class. The ring is of yellow gold. In a receding oval-shaped face is a shield with a cross at its peak and an Old English "R" in the center. On a scroll beneath the shield, is the name Redeemer with an "H" to signify Holy and an "H" to signify High, at its extremities. In order to bring out this design a backing of black onyx is supplied. A band of tooled gold encircles the face to complete it. On one shank is the numeral "19" and on the other is the numeral "33." These are placed on small shields and the shields are fitted in with black enamel. On the inside of the band the initials of each senior are engraved.

A simple, modernistic band of yellow gold was chosen by the Senior girls as their class ring.

An eagle, symbolic of the ambition of the class, crowns the top of the ring. The base supports a golden shield on which is a black strip bearing the word "Redeemer" in small gold letters. The letters "H" and "S" are placed at the lower left and right-hand corners. The small tiers composing the shank bear the numbers 19 and 33.

SENIOR HONOR STUDENTS

ALL hail to those who have come, labored, and conquered! As small children they were enrolled in the halls of learning. Even then appreciation of labor's reward was foremost in their young minds. As they progressed with the years, honest effort and wholesome work characterized them. Now they emerge clad in the light of victory as glorious conquerors of every phase in twelve years of steady schooling. These students have, in striving for personal honor, honored their parents, school, and associates. Bright as the noon-day sun the achievements of these honorables shall ever shine forth, even as they do now. We congratulate the honor students who have secured through diligence and persevering efforts, the coveted privilege of graduating "Magna Cum Laude."

This title has been merited by four long years of consistent excellence in scholastic pursuits. Great patience is a prime essential for achieving such a goal. During the time many great obstacles have been surmounted, difficult tests passed only by honest labor and many crushing disappointments endured. True it has been a tedious grind, but the reward is wholly as great as the energy expended in securing it.

It is scholars of such high caliber who are precious acquisitions to any institution of learning. Much credit and praise is due to the brothers and sisters of Mary who have helped so greatly in aiding the students to realize their fondest hopes. Such products speak well for the teaching faculties of Holy Redeemer High School.

RAYMOND GLEMET
President

CATHOLIC ACTION CLUB

UNDER the able guidance of Brother Maurice Miller the Catholic Action Committee began its second successful year as one of the organizations of the school. Early in October Raymond Glemet was elected president and Emmet Collins was chosen to act in the capacity of secretary. Membership was extended to the entire high school, each class being well represented.

The Society owes its origin to the appeal that His Holiness, Pope Pius XI, has made so frequently during the last few years for the spread of Catholic Action among the younger members of the Church. In Detroit this appeal has been answered by the formation of the Detroit Students' Conference, which is composed of delegates from all the Catholic high schools.

The committee was divided into three groups: Apostolic, Literary, and Publicity. Each had its special functions and duties and was supervised by a capable chairman. Included in the program were such meritorious works as: religious instructions, propagation of the faith, and the publication of the Catholic Outlook and the Spiritual Bulletin.

Much praise is due to the Publicity and Literary groups for their unfailing maintenance of the bulletin boards. Every week an epitomized life of a Catholic author and a list of his works appeared thereon. Records of Holy Communion attendance at the Tuesday novena devotions and on first Fridays as well as accounts of open spiritual activities were preserved by the Apostolic group.

Several times during the course of the year rallies were conducted by the committee. This was a novel idea in the school program and was received very enthusiastically by the students.

LIBRARY STAFF

IF the Boys' and Girls' high school libraries were to be combined we would have one of the largest and most complete libraries of Detroit High Schools.

As it is, the Boys' High School can boast of a library that contains several thousand volumes of both reference and fiction. One is able to satisfy his taste there whether he delights in the ancient or modern classics, romance or mystery, travel or adventure. The student also has a complete reference unit at his command.

The woodwork, chairs and tables are done in light oak. All this is conducive to a quiet, earnest atmosphere that is required in an efficient library.

The library in the Girls' School, conveniently located off the Assembly, contains approximately twenty-five hundred volumes. This pleasant and well lighted room is a favorite resort of the girls who realize that a good book is a real friend. Readily available to the seeker of knowledge are many valuable works of both ancient and modern writers. Here the lover of poetry will find a veritable mine of treasures. History, science, biography, and travel, as well as good fiction, are all here awaiting the call of the students. In order that the student body may be kept well informed regarding current events, the condition of the Church, and the missions, many religious and secular magazines and periodicals are found in this haven of research.

The intelligent and willing direction of the staff, which has made the library a valuable aid this year, is greatly appreciated by members of the out-going senior class, and they extend wishes for the continued success of this most important enterprise.

But what would a complete library, harmonious furnishings, and all, be, if they were not kept in order and if a systematic arrangement were not observed? Thanks to the industrious and efficient library staff all these books are easily accessable to those who apply. This required much patience and many hours of strenuous work. We all appreciate their faithful service.

GIRLS' ORCHESTRA

SINCE the very beginning of history music has been recognized as capable of exerting a powerful influence over the feelings and emotions of man. When praise is to be renderd, grief assuaged, or joy expressed, music is frequently the medium used. The king and the peasant, the Oriental and his western brother, all find a common means of expression is this "language of the angels."

Throughout our years at Holy Redeemer one organization that has vividly impressed itself on our memory is the school orchestra. Looking back, we can truly say that the orchestra has sounded the various chords of our scholastic career. During our carefree years in the grade school, daily we marched to the strains of its martial airs, and at every school event or parish entertainment we found the orchestra present, ready to add the final touch of color to the pageantry.

On Class Day, with its smiles and tears, the orchestra will play the final beloved school songs that will ring in loving memory through the years; and at last when Commencement night arrives, and we must leave forever the school that has sheltered us during our happy years with her, it will be to the triumphal strains of our school orchestra.

The Class of 1933 feels that it owes an undeniable debt of gratitude to the members of the orchestra, and to their director, for the many times they have come to our assistance and for the harmonious way in which they have added pleasure to the joyous entertainments of our school days. We heartily congratulate them, and we leave our Alma Mater with the hope that the School Orchestra will continue to function and remain the pleasant factor it has ever been in the life of Holy Redeemer students.

BOYS' ORCHESTRA

JAMES HURLEY
President

A FEW years ago the Boys' High School was without an orchestra or band. The students of the school often felt this deficiency whenever social affairs called for music. It seemed to pull down the prestige of the school to have to go to outsiders and ask them to play for us. Sometimes the Girls' Orchestra was in the pit. But whenever an affair was strictly for the boys, we had to do without the melodious tunes of an orchestra. A gathering did not seem complete without music. Soon the boys decided that they wanted an orchestra of their own. Junior B was the pioneer. Last year they gathered together a group of musicians from the room to furnish music for the class pep-meetings. It proved a success and so they decided to organize a school orchestra which would supply music for all future affairs.

During the summer practice was discontinued. But with the starting of school in September the players again became active under the supervision of Brother Charles Krug. It was not long before Brother Charles found that a good deal of his time was taken with the Annual and Glee Club and it was arranged to have Brother Joseph Hauf take over the Boys' Orchestra.

The orchestra owes much to the talented Mr. Reynolds Meier '29, who was most liberal with his time whenever he could be of assistance to the organization.

The orchestra lent a pleasant atmosphere to the many pep-meetings, other social activities, plays rendered by the dramatic club, father and son night, etc. Indeed the time, labor and sacrifice of its members has brought it great recognition and made it one of the school's most active organizations.

JUNIOR GLEE CLUB

THE Junior department of the Glee Club is a branch of the Senior Glee Club. Both groups act as a unit. This club consists of all the members of the Glee Club who are not Seniors. All the students, Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors are eligible for membership, if their voices are musical enough to qualify them.

This is the first year that the boys' high school has ever had such an organization as a Glee Club. It was started by Brother Charles Krug. When he was removed in January, Brother Robert Blume took over the management of the Glee Club. It was a novel and entertaining feature when the club sang the football song at the pep rally.

Early March found the members practicing assiduously, and anyone passing in the neighborhood of the music room was attracted by their beautiful harmony. The Glee Club was preparing "Whispering Hope" for the Nameday celebration of the Pastor, Reverend Father Joseph Elenz, C. Ss. R. The song was rendered with surprising skill and merited commendation of the Pastor. What added to the effect was that it was rendered a cappella. The tenors and basses blended in beautiful harmony. Without a director each part was attacked with precision and certainty.

The Glee Club was one of the most entertaining groups of the school and we hope that the Junior Glee Club will carry on in the years to come.

JUNIOR SERVERS

WITH the beginning of the ninteen thirty-three school year, Brother Frank Springmann, the moderator of the Acolytes, undertook the task of rejuvenating the Acolytical Society. The first meeting at which nearly forty boys attended, different groups were picked and captains appointed over these groups.

This meeting marked the beginning of a very active year for every acolyte. They inaugurated the school year of nineteen thirty-three by assisting at the Mass of the Holy Ghost which is annually sung for the success of the students throughout the term. Each server was dressed in white, carried a lighted candle and knelt at the altar during Mass. Surely, this very impressive service opened a very eventful season for the members of the Acolytical Society.

The second important function in which the altar boys took an energetic part were the Tuesday devotions in honor of Our Mother of Perpetual Help. It does not occur to question the motive which prompted such generous service—it is the same as that of the angels and Apostles in that they all may say "I serve," whereas Lucifer once said, "I will not serve." The Acolytical Society is composed of boys who have by now become so accustomed to the tasks which they perform, that their work is taken for granted. The Junior Servers have been most faithful in their duty in serving daily Mass.

The ceremonies on Holy Thursday, Good Friday, and Holy Saturday, and ending Easter marked the completion of a most successful year. Surely God will reward the generous students who participated in the various services during nineteen thirty-two and ninteen thirty-three.

ALUMNI OFFICERS

WITH the annual election of officers and the installation of John Sullivan '29, President; George McNamara '29, VicePresident; Hildner Broker '29, Secretary, and Reynolds Meier '29, Treasurer, and with Theodore Collins, John Reaume, and Emmet Roach elected to Board of Governors, the Alumni Association entered into its 14th year as an organization bound together by the ties of friendship created in the class-room days of by-gone years.

Starting the athletic events through the kindness and generosity of Coach Crowe, who so willingly offered both his time and services, the Alumni basketball team enjoyed a successful season in the newly formed Catholic Young Men's League.

The first and most popular social event of the season was the Alumni Ball. This affair, through the whole hearted co-operation of the officers and the various committees, has grown year after year until now it is an event anxiously looked forward to by both the members and their friends.

Our field day at Tashmoo Park, the next social, has been arranged to assure the entire school as well as the old grads of a happy carefree holiday with the annual ball game between the Seniors and Alumni promising to be the highlight of the day.

A delightful evening of entertainment has been planned to welcome the largest class ever graduated from our Alma Mater at the June banquet. We feel sure that the deviation which we have made from former years will meet with the approval of the old and new members.

Closing our social calendar with the annual moonlight we trust and hope that we have succeeded in binding a little closer together those class room friendships which is our aim to preserve.

HOLY REDEEMER ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION extends their cordial greetings to each and every member of the 1933 Graduation Class and are anxiously awaiting the time when they will be members of the Holy Redeemer Alumnae Association. We know that we can depend on them as graduates of Holy Redeemer to give us their loyal support—Welcome Seniors!

The Annual banquet, which was given at the Fort Shelby Hotel on June 22, was the outstanding event of the year. Those who attended the banquet were high in their praise of same and are looking forward with pleasure to this year's banquet.

The card parties sponsored by the Holy Redeemer Alumnae Association during the year were gratifying successes. The officers thank the girls for their support during the past year and are looking forward with great anticipation to the future Alumnae of Holy Redeemer.

When graduation has culminated the high school careers of the large group of Seniors of whom this year's class boasts, there will be a cordial greeting awaiting them in the ranks of the Alumnae. Welcome, Seniors!

On the whole, the success of this year and that of the past, due to whole hearted co-operation, cannot help but insure the realization of high hopes for the future.

REDEEMER WEEKLY STAFF

As an appreciation written to record the earnest and trustworthy efforts of those students whose persevering, wholehearted efforts as a school staff on the Holy Redeemer Weekly made that page one of the greatest interest.

Efforts such as theirs have been should not go unrewarded but should be brought to the attention of those fellow students who owe a debt of gratitude to this staff.

The time they have spent has not been in vain. News of a school child's activities have been conveyed to parents; the triumphs of our athletic teams have been recorded; the spiritual enterprises, scholastic activities, interesting tales and beautiful poetry of High School students have been published through their untiring efforts. They have made their fellow students realize that the school is really functioning by the writings which may perpetuate, perhaps, the events which have been an elemental part of our scholastic lives; to serve us afterwards as a means of recollecting, in retrospective moments, the pleasant occurrences which made our school days the happiest, carefree days of our lives.

Let us not shield their unselfish labors from public approval but broadcast to fellow students the individuals who are responsible for many enjoyable minutes of reading.

Therefore, reiterating once more the former words of appreciation, let it be added that it is the fondest of our hopes that there will be successors who may worthily fill the places vacated by this Graduating Staff of 1933.

MARYGROVE COLLEGE

DETROIT

A NATIONAL CATHOLIC COLLEGE FOR WOMEN

THE MARYGROVE IDEA

THE MARYGROVE graduate is a BACHELOR OF ARTS—in our Catholic Culture, an ART means the RIGHT WAY OF DOING A THING—and the degree is granted, not for a mechanical accumulation of "credit hours" or miscellaneous "points," but for the proved possession of those RIGHT WAYS OF DOING THINGS, those ARTS, those POSITIVE and distinctive PERSONAL POWERS that have always characterized the AUTHENTIC Bachelor of Arts.

FACULTY—Sisters, Servants of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, assisted by a corps of distinguished lay and clerical professors, all with higher university degrees.
